DROWNS IN SUGAR CREEK

Well Known Garrard Farmer, Formerly of Preachersville, Meets Peculiar Fate.

David Anderson, formerly of the Preachersville section, but who has lived on Sugar Creek in Garrard for a number of years, was drowned Monday morning while attempting to cross Sugar Creek on the Buckeye pike. The stream was very much swollen from a veritable cloudburst which had occurred a few minutes before.

One report is that Mr. Anderson's team was running away, having been started by a heavy hailstorm which was falling, and that the wagon became uncoupled and he was thrown into the water. Another rumor is that a powerful volume of water struck the vehicle and team mid-stream and that the wagon was turned over. The mules were washed down stream some distance but finally swam out.

Mr. Anderson's body was not found for several hours but a searching party located it about a mile and a half from where the accident occurred. The victim was a son of William Anderson, who died in the Preachersville section some dozen years ago, and a half brother of Jones Anderson. He was in Lancaster when the news came of his brother's misfortune and went immediately to the scene. The body had been found when he arrived.

Mr. Anderson was about 50 years old and besides a wife, he leaves several children. He was an excellent citizen and his untimely death cast a gloom over the crowd which had gathered at court at Lancaster.

NEGROES MAY BE DISMISSED

Who Have Held Office Under Wilson For Three Years

A dispatch from Washington said last week: Following the filing of charges with the Civil Service Commission of undue political activity against George W. Gentry and W. D. Tardiff, two negro storekeepers, gaugers employed under Collector Hughes, of the Eighth district, by Representative Helm, the commission has notified Mr. Helm that it had recommended to Commissioner Osborne removal from service of Gentry and Tardiff. Charges were filed at the request of Stanford citizens. Gentry is the man whose candidacy for delegate to the Republican National convention caused a split among colored republicans.

It is understood that the charges against the two local negroes, grew out of their participation in the last councilmanic campaign in this city, and that they have taken the matter up with the department at Washington. The charges were not engaged in "partisan politics" at that time, which comes under the ban of the civil service rules. These cases will be watched with much interest, as these two negroes have held office now for three years under democratic administration.

A SPECIFIC AGAINST COLDS.

The nearest thing to a specific against colds is a sleeping porch or open bed room and a cold sponge bath every morning when you first get up. Even then you will occasionally take a cold, especially when colds are epidemic, and when you do you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a great help in enabling you to get rid of it. Try it. Obtainable everywhere.

KNOXVILLE ADVANCE MAN

Here Friday Going Over Ground Trade Boosters Will Visit.

Mr. O. F. Whittle, representing Knoxville's First Trade Trip, and President of the Whittle Springs company, which operates a summer resort at the Whittle Springs near Knoxville, was a visitor in Stanford Friday making arrangements for the visit of the Knoxville business men who will reach here April 12, at 9:05 A. M.

Mr. Whittle came here for the purpose of discussing with the local committee the question of the program to be followed upon the arrival of the visitors aboard the Trade Trip Special. Mr. Whittle stated that the Trade Trip committee, comprised of men representing every business organization in Knoxville, decided on this move to get in touch with the people here as a means of impressing upon all of them that the trip is being undertaken by Knoxville's business men rather for the purpose of SEEING than of SELLING our folks. Mr. Whittle stated that the business men of Knoxville were just as anxious to buy what we had to sell them as they were to ship what they had to sell us. In other words, it is more or less of a "bartering" trip.

The personnel of the Trade Trip will consist of men like Mr. Whittle, who are owners or managers of the business houses which they represent. Mr. Whittle stated that he had arranged to furnish complimentary Trade Trip committee Whittle Springs water exclusively on the "special." The Chamber of Commerce is leaving no stone unturned to show the visitors that they are willing to meet them half way in the effort being put forth to establish closer business and social relations between Knoxville and Stanford business men.

BEFORD'S CHAIN FOUNDED

W. M. Winkle, Mercer county farmer, who resides near High Bridge, Saturday morning brought to Lexington a watch chain upon which was engraved the name of Sam W. Bedford, Lexington insurance agent, who has been missing since 1878. Winkle stated he had buried in leaves at the side of the path leading from the end of High Bridge to the farm. The finding of the chain which Bedford wore on the day of his disappearance, strengthened belief that he met with foul play.

News of the Churches

On Sunday evening at 6:30, Mr. I. C. Swaim, of Lexington, will address the Baptist Young People's Union, on "Amusement That Is Worth While." Everybody is cordially invited.

Presbyterian church: Mid-week service on Wednesday evening, beginning promptly at 7 o'clock. The Every Member Campaign will be made on Sunday, April 2.

The Christian Sunday school here bested the Lancaster school of the same denomination Sunday in the contest, which has been on for the past four weeks. There were 326 scholars and teachers in attendance here and only 200 at Lancaster. This is three out of four Sundays that the local school has led Lancaster's.

Rev. W. A. Swift, of Lexington, after preaching at the Methodist church Sunday, the 19th, on Christian Education, started a subscription for increasing the endowment of Kentucky Wesleyan College, at Winchester. He was in the neighborhood for several days and secured $482. There is hope of reaching $600. Rev. Swift made a strong and convincing plea.

At the Methodist church Sunday morning just before Sunday school, a section of plastering about six or eight square yards in extent, fell from the center of the ceiling. Fortunately all persons present were sufficiently distant to escape damage. This catastrophe served to give a new impetus to the afore mentioned project of a new church building. It is hoped something will materialize.

The Methodist Episcopal church at St. Paul, Minn., has ordered the abolition of marriage fees to the pastor. Such fees shall hereafter be considered contributions to the church. The pastor must furnish an expense account incurred for care, fare, luncheon and other things for which he spends money in connection with his official duties. This is getting the church down on a business basis as it ought to be.

The Kentucky Sunday-school Association has officially proclaimed Sunday, May 7th, as "Go to Sunday-school Day" throughout the State of Kentucky. This announcement will inspire the hope and quicken the zeal of thousands of Sunday-school workers and scholars. It will be recalled that "Go to Sunday-school Day" last year brought 600,000 visitors into Kentucky Sunday-schools, and increased the membership by fifty thousand.

Proper Treatment for Biliousness. For a long time Miss Lula Skelton, Churchville, N. Y., was bilious and had sick headache, and dizzy spells. Chamberlain's Tablets were the only thing that gave her permanent relief. Obtainable everywhere.

MISSIONARY PAGEANT

Of Beauty and Impressiveness Brings To Close Christian Endeavor Convention Sunday.

The Eighth District Christian Endeavor Convention, which met in Stanford last week, held its first session Friday evening, in the Presbyterian church. The program was arranged by Miss Della Holiday, who presided over the meeting. Rev. D. M. Walker, of the Christian church conducted the devotional exercises. Rev. P. Bruce, of the Presbyterian church extended a word of welcome to the visitors and Miss Baker, of Burgin, responded. Field Secretary, C. F. Evans, of Lebanon, made a talk on C. E. Work, followed by splendid addresses by J. A. Sanders, of Nicholasville and Luther Ambrose, of Berea.

The sessions on Saturday were at the Christian church and the day was taken up with reports from societies and conferences. A debate was the feature of the afternoon services and Rev. F. M. Tindler, of Lancaster, made an inspiring talk at the evening services. After the services a social hour was much enjoyed by all. Miss Georgia Dunn, of Lexington, gave an interesting talk on work at the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon.

The convention closed Sunday evening with a regular C. E. Prayer meeting at which time Miss Mary Craig Hayden beautifully sang "Abide With Me."

Then followed a beautiful Missionary Pageant. The large auditorium was taxed to its utmost capacity, to accommodate the immense audience. The pageant was a beautiful and impressive appeal, as the different nations, represented by young ladies in native costumes, appeared before "Columbia" and told of their needs for Christianity. A chorus of young ladies in white robes added to the effectiveness of the scene. Much praise is being given Misses Esther Burch and Elizabeth Higgins for their excellent work in training these ladies and Stanford feels justly proud to have such excellent instructors in her midst.

Mr. C. F. Evans closed with a few words urging the young people to consecrate themselves to God.

The object of the pageant was to show the opportunity of mission work and to show the need of Christianity. Those who were present at the event as representatives of the nations were:

Columbia—Miss Anna Roberts.

Chinese Girl—Miss Violet Holtzclaw.

Hungarian Girl—Miss Lettie Walker McKinney.

Italian Girl—Miss Lucile Dudderar.

Syrian Girl—Miss Kitty Jones.

Bohemian Girl—Miss Ethel Powell.

Mexican Girl—Miss Gertrude Wilkin.

Cuban Girl—Miss Hester Anderson.

Gypsy Girl—Miss Katie Lynn Wood.

The chorus girls were Misses Elizabeth Higgins, Ruth Darnell, Elizabeth Eldridge, Sallie M. Craig, Gene Wood, Mary Bailey, Nellie Wilson Hill, Belle Russell, Allie Russell Fish, Josephine Carpenter, Thelma Francis Matsy Grimes, Patty Perkins and Annie Rogers Powell.

One of the concluding features of the convention was the election of officers, the following being chosen for the succeeding year:

Is Assured by K. P. Lodge—Members Pledge Enthusiastic Support.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the local K. P. lodge here Saturday afternoon further details for the holding of a most successful fair here this fall were discussed, and the membership with one accord agreed to get behind the enterprise with energy and enthusiasm. The K. P.s have been assured of hearty co-operation from the Chamber of Commerce and citizens and business men of the county generally who appreciate just what a fair at Stanford means for the community as a whole. The officers and directors will make every effort to make the fair bigger and better than ever before, and will make such revision of the catalogue as will make it cover all phases of farm life in this section. The fair this year will be a big success and the local lodge has already started upon its way. A special meeting of the directors of the fair has been called for Saturday, April 1st, at 2:30 o'clock when preliminary arrangements will be gotten under way.

MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETING

Discuss Prevention of Blindness In New-Born Babe.

The Lincoln County Board of Health met in the county court room at 10 a. m., Tuesday, March 21st with the Lincoln County Medical Society to discuss the prevention of blindness in the new-born babe and trachoma. Dr. W. B. O'Bannon gave a lecture on ophthalmia neonatorum, and Dr. J. G. Carpenter, one on trachoma, to the physicians and midwives of the county. The subjects were illustrated with plates and drawings of the natural eye and the sequelae of the diseases from a pathologic view. Drs. Pipes, of Moreland, Roberta Carpenter, Hustonville, Southard, Brown and Peyton, of Stanford, Dr. J. B. Kinnaird, of Lancaster, and six colored midwives and Dr. Moore, of color, were present and entered freely into the discussions. The midwives expressed a vote of thanks for being called to be instructed and gave the strictest attention and gave their experiences and opinions in the practice of midwifery. They were happy in being able to present good manners. The law nurse and midwife also agreed to install a nurse in the practice of midwifery. The Health Officer is now within six hours, if the patient is in town, and twenty-four hours, if in the country.

Seventy-five per cent of the blindness in the new babe is due to ophthalmia neonatorum and 75% of blindness in other people is due to trachoma. It behooves the tax payers to take great interest in the above subjects, as they are taxed to keep up the institution for the blind. Trachoma is so prevalent in certain sections of Kentucky, that the U. S. Government has established hospitals at various points by competent men to help stamp out the disease of trachoma, yet every physician worthy of the name of doctor should be able to successfully treat this disease.

Dr. Pipes read a paper on the sequelae of "la grippe," dwelling at large on sinus, laryngo-tracheal inflammation, ear and brain complications and specifically on labor pneumonia. The essay was fully discussed by Drs. O'Bannon, Peyton, Brown, Southard, Kinnaird and Carpenter.

The following were placed on the program for the next meeting at Hustonville: Dr. Weddle, Complications of "la grippe"; Dr. Childress, on treatment of "la grippe"; Dr. J. G. Carpenter, treatment and pathology of Calle's and Barton's fractures by extension and counter extension. It is an easy task to have a good County Medical Society—a post graduate course at home, when every member becomes interested and takes a part, the greatest good to the greatest number. We owe this to our patients and humanity to keep posted. —Contributed.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Girdler was made happy by an intimate gathering of friends to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the latter. It was a complete surprise and immensely enjoyed by all present. The dinner consisted of the best things of the season. The table was beautifully arranged and "they did eat." Here's hoping the genial host and hostess have many happy birthdays. Those present, besides the family, were: Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Retherford, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Turpin, Mr. E. Mc Cormack, Mrs. Howard Downey, Ruby, Margaret and Harry Russell and Geraldine Turpin.

YOUNG MAN'S SAD FATE.

News comes from East Bernstadt, Laurel county, that John McGee, a young man working at Lynn, with an "extra gang," whose home was near Weaver, met a horrible death one night last week. His body was burned beyond recognition. It is supposed that lightning struck the building in which he was sleeping and set fire to it, which was burned to the ground. His body was taken to East Bernstadt for burial.

FINE GLEE CLUB COMING.

LINCOLN TRUST CO. FORMED

Stockholders of Progressive Financial Institution Take Another Step Forward.

At their meeting Saturday, the directors of the Lincoln County National Bank organized The Lincoln Trust Company to be operated in connection with the bank. The capital stock is to be $25,000, divided into shares of $25 each. The amount of $25 is to be paid to each shareholder of the bank out of its surplus fund and the privilege given of taking the amount in trust company stock, so that each shareholder of the bank can secure an equal number of shares in the trust company by paying for it with the amount paid out of the surplus fund.

Business men and financiers believe that a trust company has long been one of Stanford's most urgent needs and it will doubtless prove a great help to the community, as it will be authorized to act as guardian, administrator, executor, trustee and curator. Quite a number of other progressive banks in small towns in the state have trust companies affiliated with them, and this step by the Lincoln County National Bank will put it in the forefront with other up-to-date and progressive institutions of the kind, and enable it to greatly extend its scope of usefulness to the community in which it is already such a potent factor.

CASEY BEATS ROAD BONDS.

News received from Casey county Monday was to the effect that the road bond question was defeated in the election held there Saturday, by from 200 to 300 majority. The proposition was to vote $150,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of improving the roads of Casey, which are said to be in fearful shape, and also to build some new pikes. There was little active campaigning done there for the bond issue, it is said, which may account for its defeat.

LATEST FROM MEXICO.

News received from Mexico, March 26, received at Columbus, N. M., stated that Villa's band was moving westward in an effort to reach the border of the United States. In a dispatch to the United States, it was stated that the Mexican army was making a determined effort to stop the advance of Villa's forces.

United States military authorities are becoming increasingly impatient for the completion of arrangements with Gen. Carranza for the use of the Mexican railway. The railroad problem is considered the crux of the situation, it is stated.

The Emporium at Hustonville will have its Spring Millinery display, Saturday, April 1st. You are cordially invited. 25-2

DARING JAIL DELIVERY.

A dispatch from Manchester, Clay county, Sunday said: One of the most daring jail breaks in the history of Clay county was effected here early today, when, holding prison guards at bay, armed accomplices of John D. Pace passed saws to him through a window of the building and told him to "get busy." Pace lost no time, it is said, quickly sawing the bars of his cell window. He then rode off with the band which liberated him. Friends of Pace, it is reported, helped the man saw through the iron bars, Pace, formerly a member of the United States Army, was under indictment on a charge of the murder of his father and stepmother. He killed them while they were asleep in their beds.

A posse is now following the Pace band into Owsley county, where the members are said to be strongly entrenched in a mountain fastness.

Don't Neglect Kidneys

Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Prescription, Overcomes Kidney Trouble.

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood. The kidneys should receive some assistance when needed. We take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich, heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more than nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, warns that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. There is nothing else like it. It is Dr. Kilmer's prescription used in private practice and it is sure to benefit you. Get a bottle from your druggist.

However if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Stanford Semi-Weekly Interior Journal. 25-26-27-28.

ONE OF OLDEST CITIZENS

James Gooch, Aged 92, Passes Away At Home Near McKinney

James Gooch, aged 92 years, and one of the oldest men in the county, passed away at his home at McKinney early Sunday morning, of the infirmities of age, and in his death that section of the county has lost one of its most beloved and esteemed citizens. Mr. Gooch was preceded to the Great Beyond by his good wife only two years ago. Surviving him are five children, Messrs. Thomas W. Gooch, Fred Gooch, and Mrs. Woodie Jones, and Mrs. James Routen, of McKinney, and Mrs. A. C. Afford, of Danville. The deceased was for many years a faithful member of the Baptist church. Funeral services were conducted over his remains Monday morning at 10 o'clock, at the McKinney church, by Rev. C. McCallary, of Stanford. Interment in the McKinney cemetery. Mrs. Emily Murphy, of Danville, came up Sunday morning to attend the funeral.

DEATH OF CHARLIE

News has been received from Danville announcing the death of Charley Rice, formerly of the Danville section, who was a good many years ago known as "Uncle" Charlie, as he was a popular man, lived here, but he was a member of warm friends, who can never forget him and who will regret to learn of his death. He was a very popular man and made friends wherever he went. He moved from Stanford to Springfield and thence to Danville, where he resided the remainder of his life. He had been troubled with diabetes for a good part of his life, which confined him to his bed for nearly two months prior to his death. He was laid to rest in the Danville cemetery Wednesday morning. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Katie Rice, and one daughter, Miss Hattie Rice, to whom the people here and elsewhere extend their deepest bereavement.

Estill county is stirred from center to circumference over the finding of oil in paying quantities. El Paso, Texas, citizens have tendered the use of 140 Maxwell cars to Gen. Pershing of the United States army, for use as he sees fit in any movement of troops.

Sherman Gibson, constable, and J. B. McBee are in jail at Williamsburg charged with shooting to death Ranzie Perkins, who would not submit to arrest for drunkenness.

A Lexington dispatch says that fully 50 students in the High School will probably fail to graduate this year on account of the effects of cigarette smoking.

Barney Oldfield covered a mile in his Firestone tire-equipped machine in 45 seconds at Los Angeles, establishing a new world's record for that distance.

The Harrodsburg Graded School has a savings bank, which was opened a few days ago. The deposits for the first three days amounted to $60.57, made up largely of coppers.

The Grand Army Post at Princeton, Ind., resolute against the great picture "Birth of a Nation" but such stuff seems to be only an advertisement for the greatest film achievement the world has ever known.

A gray eagle, weighing 25 pounds and measuring six feet from tip to tip of wing, was captured by D. P. Chance in the Cumberland mountains a few days ago and was brought to Middlesboro. Governor Stanley Grants Pardon to Sam M. Wilhite, Former City Controller of Louisville.

His many friends and relatives in this county, which is his old home, are glad to learn that Sam M. Wilhite, of Louisville, was pardoned by Gov. Stanley late last week. The daily papers said that among those requesting the governor to pardon him were Messrs. J. S. Hocker and S. T. Harris and Dr. J. G. Carpenter, of Stanford. Mr. Wilhite, who was formerly City Controller of Louisville, was granted a pardon Friday afternoon by Governor Stanley of what remained of the penitentiary sentence he was serving for embezzling $14,500 in bonds held by him as a city official in 1914. Mr. Wilhite pleaded guilty to the charge against him in October, 1914, and was given a sentence of from two to ten years in the penitentiary.

Mr. Wilhite, who went to Louisville from Stanford, years ago, was named City Controller in 1901 by Mayor Grainger, and held that office until the summer of 1914, when a defalcation in his office was discovered by experts employed by Mayor Buschmeyer. The method followed by Wilhite was the hypothecation of city bonds that had been deposited with the city by contractors as a guarantee of their work. The city lost nothing by the defalcation as the amount, $14,500, was fully covered by a surety bond. Wilhite later pleaded guilty and went to the penitentiary. The pardoning of Wilhite removes from the State penitentiary the chief bookkeeper at that institution. Mr. Wilhite, who has long been considered one of the best accountants in the State, had revolutionized the system of keeping books at the penitentiary, and had put everything in perfect condition during his stay there. August F. Ropke, whose defalcation at the Fidelity Trust Company, of Louisville, went above $1,000,000, is still in the penitentiary and will, in the future, have charge of the prison books.

DR. CASEY GOES TO MEXICO.

Captain Henry Lewis Casey, of Danville, who has been on detail service in this section with the War Department, has been ordered to the Mexican border. He will leave at once for Mexico, where he will be in charge of a supply train. He was loaded for El Paso, and upon his arrival there will be assigned to the Quartermaster's department. Captain Casey has many friends in this city.

NEW AUTO AGENCY HERE.

Another automobile agency was established in Stanford Monday, when W. L. McCarty, of the well known real estate firm of Hughes & McCarty, arranged for the agency of the celebrated Dodge car in Lincoln and adjoining counties. Mr. T. J. Butler of the Southern Motors Company, of Louisville, was here with Mr. McCarty, and planned a comprehensive advertising campaign for him. Mr. McCarty has secured a handsome five-passenger touring car as a demonstrator which will be here shortly, and he will push sales of this machine which has proven very popular everywhere.

MRS. SCHRODER DEAD.

The wife of Robert Schroder, a well known merchant on the L. & N., died at the home of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Fishback, at Mt. Vernon, Saturday morning and was brought here for burial Sunday. She had been a sufferer for a short while from acute diabetes, deceased, who was 26 years old and a devoted member of the Christian church, was a niece of Mrs. Mary Straub, of this city. Her home was on a farm North of Lebanon and she was visiting her mother when the fatal sickness began.

MORE NEEDLESS OFFICES

Notwithstanding vigorous protests from people of the district, and taxpayers all over the state who object to seeing the creation of more offices in strict violation of the Democratic platform, Gov. Stanley allowed the act of the legislature creating the 36th judicial district, to become a law last week. The act creates the Thirty-sixth Judicial District, to be composed of the counties of Morgan, Wolf and Magoffin. It changes the Thirty-second District so that it will be composed of Breathitt, Lee and Estill. The Circuit Judge for the new district is to be appointed by the Governor. During debate on the bill in the House, Representative Hutchcraft offered an amendment, which was held out of order, providing for the insertion in the preamble of the words, "Whereas, Judge D. W. Gardner needs a job." The chief speech against the bill was made by Representative Bailey, democrat, of Hopkins, who declared himself opposed to needless expenditure of the people's money. Mr. Bailey was interrupted by Representative Clay Kaufman, of Garrard, who made an unusually fine record in the General Assembly, who asked sarcastically of Bailey: "Don't you think that when a man is down and out politically that the party to which he belongs ought to create a job to take care of him?"

The plank in the Democratic platform upon which Stanley was elected, providing for economy, seems to have cut no figure in this bill, though it was the all important (?) reason why some democratic legislators could not vote to submit state-wide prohibition to the people. Stanley permits the bill to become a law and a couple of more needless jobs are created in open defiance of the democratic platform and in ruthless disregard of the fact that taxpayers are already burdened to the limit.

H. H. Colyer, of Madison county has been appointed to a $3000 a year job on the State Rating Board by Auditor Greene. Colyer was a candidate for Auditor but withdrew in Greene's favor and gets a nice job as a "reward." Several politicians have found that there is a nice soft berth, having been likewise rewarded by State Treasurer Greene for the same sort of eminent service.

THE IRON CLAW

FIFTH EPISODE

THE INTERVENTION OF TITO

David Manley was not altogether proud of his day's work. As he sat tied and bound on the rough brick floor beneath the Owl's Nest that once flippant-minded young man even acknowledged that things looked rather bad for him. He had been made a prisoner. The iron claw of Legar had reached suddenly out and closed about him.

But David Manley did not altogether give up. As he lay there, sore in body, but even more battered in mind, he still spasmodically struggled with the cords that held him hand and foot.

The solitude of that unsavory den did not add to his comfort. The mere fact that Legar could see fit to leave a prisoner thus ungarded impressed the prisoner with the fact that his one-armed enemy was only too well assured of his power. And the more Manley thought of Legar and his methods the more that sinister figure seems to bewilder him. He knew that Legar was the unrelenting and eternal enemy of Enoch Golden, just as he had been the enemy of Golden's daughter Margory.

The thought of Margory directed Manley's mind back to the earlier events of that strange day. He recalled his long talk with that quiet-eyed girl in the quiet-toned shadows of the Golden library. It had been the first talk between them into which the personal note had entered. He had enjoyed that talk, for he had felt, as it progressed, that the girl had begun to realize he was her friend, that he wanted to be her friend.

But the quietness of the Golden home had proved to be nothing more than a lull which precedes the sudden storm. For, five minutes after he had left the smiling girl, the Golden butler, with terror in his eyes, had come running to him saying there was a stranger in the house, a stranger who had been seen lurking about the halls and had promptly disappeared at the sight of one of the servants. So Manley, forgetting everything else, had promptly joined in the search for that mysterious intruder. And his first thought, after doing so, had been for Margory Golden.

Hurrying to the library to make sure of her safety, he had found her seated at her father's desk, quietly talking over the telephone. And there had been little in that scene not suggestive of tranquillity. For blinking placidly down from its perch beside her had stood Tito, Margory Golden's newly acquired parrot, for which Manley himself had small love. This feeling was based, not so much on the malevolent air of wisdom surrounding that green-bodied flier of human phrases, as on the somewhat disturbing trick, taught it by some earlier master, of seeking out gas jets and turning them on the moment it was freed from its chain.

Yet as it had stood close beside the girl so busily talking over the tele-

Don't Scold, Mother! The Cross Child Is Bilious, Feverish!

Look at tongue! If coated, clean little stomach, liver, bowels.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, does not eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowel and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mother can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. 251 phone it had seemed as companionably innocent as a canary. And it had turned to blink sagely at Manley as the girl, apparently unconscious of his presence, had crossed to the mahogany-faced vault set in the library wall and proceeded to open its ponderous door. This had startled Manley not a little, for the combination of that vault was a secret jealously guarded by Golden, a secret unknown to Manley himself. It was not until she stood with the massive door swung open that Manley had confronted her. But she showed no embarrassment at his sudden interruption.

"My father has just phoned from Philadelphia," she explained. "There are certain papers he must have for his conference with the Regent Trust company tomorrow."

"But when did you find out how to open that door?" had been Manley's inquiry.

"Two minutes ago, over the telephone," had been the girl's reply.

"Then the door that door is shut and locked and the better," he had warned her.

"Why?" he asked, for the first time conscious of his excitement.

"Because," she said, "an unknown man hiding in this house, and heaven only knows what he's after in times like these!"

Even as he spoke Manley had detected an unnatural furtiveness about the portiere draping the side door to the library. And on the polished parquet floor at the bottom of that portiere the toe of a man's shoe had been plainly visible. Yet Golden's secretary had waited until the girl had closed and locked the vault door. Then he had leaped for the figure behind the drapery.

But that intruder behind the drapery had apparently not been altogether unconscious of the danger confronting him. He had at the same moment side-stepped nimbly through the quickly opened door, throwing an approaching and suddenly hysterical housemaid aside as he had swept past her. The redoubtable Wilson, who had also attempted to block his exit, had even more promptly gone down, knocked flat by one fierce blow. It had been then, and then only, that Manley discovered the identity of the intruder.

He had caught sight of the scarred face, which even an ample beard failed to screen. He had seen the right arm of wood which ended in its sinister iron hook, and all doubt as to his enemy had vanished.

But this discovery had in no way interfered with Manley's pursuit of that audacious intruder.

It had not been a pretty fight, that hand-to-hand contest between the slim-bodied youth and the scar-faced exploiter of evil, but it had been a desperate one. As Manley, pressing stubbornly on, had struggled to close in on his opponent, Legar had discreetly and nimbly backed away until he found the double house door itself barring his farther retreat. Thereupon he had promptly shattered the plate-glass backing the iron grill work on the hinges, and had actually swung one of these doors open before Manley could gather himself together and spring boldly on his escaping enemy.

They had gone down the broad steps together, locked arm in arm, fighting and clawing as ferociously as midnight cats in a tenement court. And Manley, with one hand on Legar's leathery throat, would surely have won, had not a closed car glided up to the curb along which they were writhing and panting and rolling. From that car a yellow-faced Italian known as Scoop had taken a prompt and active part in the encounter. He had withheld finalities, however, until Manley was uppermost. Then, with a quickly drawn "billy" he had blackjacked that youth into utter indifference as to Legar and mysteriously waiting limousine and all the rest of the world.

An Ideal Remedy For Nursing Mothers.

COMPOUND OF SIMPLE LAXATIVE HERBS SAFE FOR BABY AND MOTHER.

Constipation is a condition that affects the old, young and middle-aged, and most people at one time or another need help in regulating the action of the bowels. Harsh cathartics and purgatives should not be employed to relieve constipation, as their effect is only temporary while they shock the system unnecessarily. A remedy that can be used with perfect safety for the tiniest babe and that is equally effective for the strongest constitution is found in the combination of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in the drug stores everywhere for fifty cents and should be in every family medicine chest.

EVELYN BARSLOW

Mrs. F. I. Barsolow, 18 Leslie St., Holyoke, Mass., wrote to Dr. Caldwell, "Syrup Pepsin certainly is fine. I gave it to my baby, Evelyn, and also took it myself. It is the only medicine I have been able to take without affecting Baby in the nursing. I

GEORGE H. FARRIS.

A. A. A. A PERFECT STONE

Some diamonds are bigger than others—some better and some costlier. A big diamond, tho' it cost more is not always better than a smaller one. For a given amount you can get a diamond that is bigger than a smaller perfect stone.

Same way with motor cars. Some people buy a "big bunch" for a dollar; some seek quality rather than size and then many buy imitations. But unlike diamonds—motor cars depreciate in value—the nearer perfect mechanically, and the smaller the operating expense—the less the depreciation.

When a car runs 22,000 miles without an adjustment, it approximately perfect mechanically, when it does this at an average expense of two cents per mile it approaches perfection from an economic standpoint.

The American Automobile Association, the supreme court of the industry vouches for this unrivaled record. It's not a maker's claim, but a verified fact.

Is a $1,000 high for such a car that exemplifies the most advanced trend in body design? "Monotonous similarity of appearance indicates low-grade."

Then when you know this world's record Maxwell is only $685, delivered completely equipped—when you come to buy your car—what are you going to do about it?

The highest price ever paid for cattle on the Chicago market in March was $10.05 a hundred pounds, paid there Friday. Scarcity of choice cattle among the farmers was given as the reason for the unusually high price which the steers brought. Buyers predicted that within two months choice cattle will bring $11. Reports from the farming districts throughout the United States indicated that choice cattle were scarce at all markets. This was caused by the recent foot and mouth disease in Illinois, Indiana and Iowa.

T. W. Jones, of Stanford, had three loads of hogs on the Cincinnati market Monday. Among his purchases for the big shipment were 115 from James W. Allen, of Hustonville, which averaged 150 pounds, and cost him 8 1-2 cents a pound; 110 from J. Harvey Poynter, of the Walnut Flat section, which averaged 110 pounds and cost him 7 1-2 cents. From Eads & Yowell, of the West End, Mr. Jones bought four that averaged 125 pounds, at 8 1-4 cents a pound.

Luther Holmes, of Mt. Vernon, last week sold seven fat hogs that averaged 188 pounds at 8 3-4 cents, or a total of $115.50. These seven hogs were from a little of nine pigs. He has sold $185.50 worth of hogs, and put four in his meat larder.

On Tuesday, W. F. Sims closed a deal for the sale of his farm of 144 acres at Poplar Plains, in Fleming county, to Dr. A. J. Hillman, of Olive Hill. Consideration $11,500.

LANCASTER COURT.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather a fairly good crowd attended Lancaster court yesterday, but business was not brisk in any line. Of the 100 scrus cattle on the market, probably 75 were sold. Prices ranged from 7c for steers down to 6c for common stuff. A bunch of heifers sold at 6 1-2c. Traders were active in buying lambs and hogs for the future. For the former they offered 8 to 8 1-2c and for the latter, about 8c, some going a shade higher. Only a few mules were on the market. There was a demand for them and they went in a jiffy. Prices ranged from $136 to $145. Plug horses were slow at any price but there was some demand for the better class. $40 to $60 was about as much as could be gotten for the former, but several good business horses sold at $100 to $160.

Model 83 B

With unerring judgment of value—
With a rush that swallowed up a record production in jig time—
The public took more than 50,000 of the $750 Overlands in six months.
In six months we've absorbed all the overhead; absorbed all the development expense; realized on all the experimental cost that is usually spread over a year.

We covered our material requirements at before-the-war prices—saved three and a half million dollars on aluminum and another million on steel.

We have increased our production capacity of 300 cars per day last June to 1000 cars per day.

So again we have broken all records.
Again we have planned and bought material for a bigger production program.
And again we are setting a new and supreme standard of value—

You can now buy the big, roomy, comfortable, thirty-five horsepower Overland for $695.

Here is the value which has clearly dominated the automobile market for the last six months—now made even more clearly dominant.

Here is the car with a performance record never even approached by any car of its size ever built—fifty thousand in every day service.

And though the price is reduced the car is improved.

It has an up-to-the-minute power plant, en bloc type, developing full thirty-five horsepower. It has abundant power and speed and an exceptionally quick get-away.

The value is pre-eminent—unapproached.

We guarantee that the price for this model will never be lower.

But this price reduction is made in the face of a rising material market—we cannot guarantee that it will not be higher.

See the Overland dealer now—anticipate your requirement if need be—but make sure of your delivery now.
